County purchases Russell building

BY DENA BISNETTE

The Hancock County Courthouse is expanding again. The county has agreed to buy the Russell building on Main Street, which is currently occupied by the Sun-Herald Bay St. Louis Bureau. The other side of the building was recently vacated by Mississippi Power Company, which moved to new quarters at US-90 and Dunbar Avenue. The building, owned by Federal Judge Dan Russell, will cost the county $77,500.

Instead of adding on to the courthouse building, Hancock County has expanded in recent years by buying or building additional buildings.

The Dan M. Russell Youth Court Building was constructed in the 1970s, with the next addition being the Courthouse Annex, purchased in 1985. Other recent additions include the new county jail in 1986, built after the old one was outgrown and outdated; and the county's central maintenance barn at Kiln in 1987, which was constructed when the county converted to the unit system of government.

As each new building was added, the county filled it. The youth court building houses not only youth court, but also justice court, the veterans service office and the seniors job registry office. In addition, the building once housed the Hancock County School District Offices, moved several years ago to the administration building at Stennis Airport.

A recent addition has been the Hancock County Purchasing Office, created under House Bill Four as part of a county government reorganization passed during the 1988 special session.

That office, currently operated by purchasing agent Greg Pfeiffer, is scheduled to be moved to the Russell Building.

The lease with the newspaper bureau will probably be continued, Board President Ronald Cuevas stated.

The move to the Russell Building will add to the number of offices the county now has across Main Street from the courthouse, joining the tax collector and assessor's office, that office's reappraisal department and its printing and storage facilities.

Moving the purchasing office to the old sheriff's office and jail was not possible because that building was reoccupied almost immediately upon vacancy. It now houses the civil defense and county fire marshal's offices as well as the Hancock County Food Pantry and the Hancock County Red Cross.

FOG FATALITY—An accident being blamed on heavy fog, claimed the life of Daryl Wilkerson, 19, of Bay St. Louis early Wednesday morning. According to Mississippi Highway Patrol Information Officer Joe Gazzo, Wilkerson was pronounced dead at the scene after his silver Nissan, traveling east on Mississippi Highway 607, struck the rear section of an 18-wheeler, driven by Darren A. Luke of Franklinton, La., that was crossing the roadway as it exited the Mississippi Hospitality Center. "You couldn't see your hand in front of your face out here this morning," said Don Alley Sr., who heard the accident from the Hospitality Center. Wilkerson, an employee of Mason-Chamberlain at Stennis Space Center, reportedly was returning home after finding he did not have to report to work. (Echo staff photo by D.C. Harvill)

GRANDMOTHER'S FUNERAL LEADS TO BAY MAN'S ARREST

A Bay St. Louis man who had avoided arrest on two counts of sale of a controlled substance, over a year ago, was arrested by Bay Police recently when he returned to the city, apparently for his grandmother's funeral.

William Leondias Carter, 33, was arrested December 2, after the Bay St. Louis Police Department received a tip that he had returned to town for his grandmother's funeral, according to Detective Tom Burleson.

Charges against Carter stem from drug related arrests made by Officer David Murtagh on October 2, 1987 from which he fled to avoid being apprehended.

BY DENA BISNETTE
The Hancock County Board of Supervisors has agreed to temporarily stop renaming roads.

Hancock County Tax Assessor and Collector Edward Murtagh explained to the board that the changes in road names are deferring the progress of the enhanced 911 emergency system currently being implemented in the county.

The enhanced version of the 911 system provides law enforcement, fire and other emergency services with a computerized read-out of the location of the telephone from which the 911 call is being made, necessitating an accurate record of addresses and telephone numbers in the computer system.

With the exception of those road-namings currently pending, Murtagh asked that no changes be made until about six months after the system has begun operation.

In conjunction with both the 911 project and recent legislation that requires that all roads be named and all structures numbered, duplicate road names were eliminated and any roads without names were number through the tax office's reappraisal department.

However, until the board made its decision Monday, roads could be renamed through the supervisors if the majority of the property owners on the roads in question petitioned for specific names.

The board currently has about three road-namings pending, including one that has been assigned to Board Attorney Gerald Gex due to a dispute over whether the road should be named Dan Garcia Road or Leila Lynn Road.

According to Beat One Supervisor Robert Peterson, in whose district the road is located, the Dan Garcia Road signs were originally placed on the wrong road. The supervisor said he is willing to approve the name the majority of the landowners want.

The other two pending road namings are in Beat Three.

A final decision on the road namings is expected after Gex reports his findings.

The board meets again at 9 a.m. Dec. 15.

Enforcement agencies unite in war on drugs

BY D.C. HARVILL

The signing of an agreement Friday by Bay St. Louis Mayor Victor Frankiewicz Jr. launched a joint effort among Hancock County's law enforcement agencies in the war on drugs.

Waveland Police Chief Donald Dorn, Bay Chief Ray Murphy and Hancock County Sheriff Ronnie Peterson were on hand at the Bay City Hall to witness the signing of the inter-local agreement creating the Metropolitan Task Force.

The task force is being funded by a federal grant and matching funds split equally between the county and the two municipal governments.

It was to be manned by an officer from each of the local agencies, but, because of a funding cut, the operation may result in only one full-time officer or two part-time officers being assigned to the project.

"The basic agreement is not that we share manpower, but that we share, equally, the expenses," Frankiewicz said.

The task force originally was to be funded by a $56,000 federal grant, but only $24,000 was received, according to Frankiewicz.

Each of the three local governments' share of the matching funds equals approximately $8,000.

Bay St. Louis, serving as administrator for the task force, is responsible for receiving and

Bay rates reduction meets council approval

BY D.C. HARVILL

Bay St. Louis residents will see a reduction in their city utility bills, beginning with December's.

At their meeting Tuesday night, the city council unanimously passed an ordinance, effective immediately upon its approval, reducing the city's utility rates an average of five to six-percent depending on the amount of consumption.

The Waveland Regional Wastewater Management District fee and the garbage collection rate will remain the same.

For the average residential bill, $79.77, the reduction means a savings of $4.38.

The ordinance also allows for large users to negotiate their rates when other utility sources are available. The negotiated rates must account for all costs to the city.

Customers with unusually high water rates from May to September may apply for credit on water which does not enter the sewer system as a result of watering lawns and gardens.

According to Mayor Victor Frankiewicz Jr., the city is able to reduce its rates because:

—The city renegotiated its natural gas costs when it wrote its 1989 budget.

—The Federal Energy Regulatory Commission has locked the price of natural gas at a rate which should remain stable for at least a year.

—The city reduced its debt cost

"QUOTABLE QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

On Saturday boxing will be returning to Hancock County at the Fairgrounds on Longfellow Drive.

Some of us can recall how popular high school boxing was until the early 50's in Hancock County.

Bay High and St. Stanislaus both produced probably more state champions than any other high school in the state.

Boxing drew more spectators than basketball and even many high school football games. Boxing was king.

A few of the residents can even remember professional boxing in Hancock County when such fighters as (Big Boy) Peterson, (Little Boy) Peterson and Buster Manieri climbed into local rings in the 1930's.

Just for a little history for you we were looking through our files at The Sea Coast Echo in the issue of Friday, March 30, 1928. A bill sponsored by the American Legion was signed by Governor Theodore Bilbo creating a state athletic commission and to legalize boxing, sparring and wrestling matches in Mississippi.

Admission charges were not to exceed $2.50 under the bill and boxing contests were limited to 12 rounds.

In April, 1930, a Summer Season of boxing was opened by the Bay St. Louis Legion featuring a card of (Little Boy) Peterson of Kiln against Patsy Boyle of New Orleans in a welter weight contest; Bobby May of Bay St. Louis against Young Watkins of Pascagoula; Young Bell of Pass Christian against Young Garriga of Fenton; with Henry Egloff as matchmaker.

Many of the fighters according to our files had a first name of (Young).

Saturday night's professional boxing matches are sponsored by the Hancock County Lawmen's Association with Fred Williams as promoter.

Williams has been involved in boxing for many years and was an Olympic coach finalist.

Joe Louis Goodman of Bay St. Louis is scheduled to be among fighters from along the coast and adjoining states on the card.

The contest which has up to 36 rounds of action to begin at 7:30 p.m. has general admission tickets at $10 each and table reserved at $15.

Tickets are available at Trapani's, Loiacano's Health Club and First Precinct Restaurant and Lounge and we understand ticket sales have been good.

We hope to see you at the fights.

This is the time of year when many folks think about those in need and offer assistance in many ways.

On Saturday night, the Knights of Columbus Council 7087 of Kiln will hold a benefit dance at 9 p.m. in the KC Hall, Highway 603.

Proceeds from the dance will be used to purchase food items for Christmas Baskets to be distributed to deserving families of the area and also to purchase some toys for deserving youngsters.

Music for the dance will be provided by Country Classics with a donation of $4 for singles and $7 for couples.

On Wednesday State Senator Gene Taylor reminded Bay Rotary members about the annual Political Car Wash scheduled for Saturday, December 17.

Proceeds from the Car Wash with businessmen joining our local, county and state political leaders will go towards Hancock County's Doll and Toy Fund.

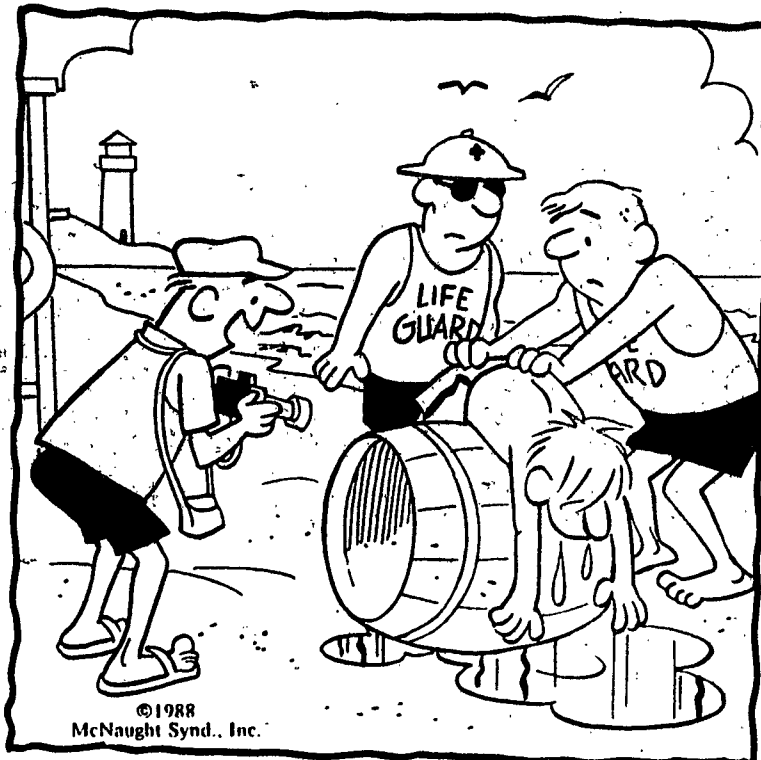

Bay Fire Chief Andrew Lizana, chairman of the Doll and Toy Fund told me yesterday, it looked like he may have requests for 900 deserving boys and girls this year.

We will give you the location and times for the Car Wash next week.

While on the subject of toys, firefighters are busy now reconditioning toys to go along with new ones purchased by donations.

If you have toys your children have outgrown and would like to donate them to the Doll and Toy Fund, drop them off at the Bay Fire Station, Bookter Street and the Old Spanish Trail.

The Hancock County Doll and Toy Fund is an agency of the United Way and also needs the assistance of many others to serve the number of deserving boys and girls.

"Wait'll you see the swell picture I got of you, George, yelling for help."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Drivers the largest part of 603 problem

To the Editor

After traveling Hwy 603 almost daily for the past 3 1/2 years, I felt it appropriate to write this letter.

Noticing bumper stickers which read "Pray for me, I drive 603" and realizing all the deaths and accidents on this highway and people talking about how dangerous it is to travel this highway, and I agree it is dangerous - but I don't feel anyone should blame the highway.

It's the people who travel it. For instance, traveling this highway at night, I've come upon vehicles doing 25 mph in a 55 mph speed zone; occasionally someone with no tail lights whatsoever; and with the headlights of an oncoming car in your eyes it's hard to see.

I've had people pull on the road in front of me in a 55 mph and travel 1/2 mile before reaching 35 mph. I've traveled this highway in the a.m. when fog made visibility so poor to where you could not see the headlights of an oncoming car until it came within 100 yards.

Its frightening when you see someone driving with parking lights only, and more so when you see someone with no lights at all. And I have seen quite a few of those without any lights.

When I see an oncoming vehicle about to come around the curve or over a hill, I always dim my lights just before his lights come in view. Eight out of 10 drivers won't dim their lights until they complete the curve and blind me.

Come on drivers! Lets stop blaming the highway and drive like our lives depend on it. Believe me it does.

Help stop pollution—don't buy plastic

To the Editor

I did not realize until fairly recently that plastics or plastic products produce large amounts of toxic waste.

I try never to buy (unless necessary) plastic products.

I ask for paper bags at the store, use less baggies and more reusable containers, and more aluminum and paper, etc.

It may not be much, but it's what I can do to help stop pollution—and it does make a difference when each person participates, in their own way, in whatever it may be.

Thanks,
Lynn Paul

FROM THE CAPITOL

By Governor Ray Mabus

"State government reorganization" may sound like a high-faluting phrase, but all it really means is tuning up state government to make it work better for you.

Reorganization is a concept whose time has come. It is such an important issue that the Mississippi House and Senate have appointed special committees to look into it.

My reorganization proposal, which goes before the Legislature in January, will make state government work better in two basic ways by:

* Putting state agencies with similar responsibilities under one roof. This will shrink the size of government while providing services more efficiently.

* Requiring more accountability in state agencies. The Legislature and the people of the state ought to know who is responsible for the performance of an agency—something that is difficult to determine now.

One way to better hold agencies accountable for their actions is to permit the governor to appoint agency directors. The lines of authority are clear, and decisions can be made quickly and decisively.

The people of Mississippi elect the governor and other statewide officials to run the executive branch of state government. Reorganization will help make that a reality.

That is a far cry from the way it works today with most state agencies. These agencies are run by boards and commissions made up of appointed persons accountable to no one. Important decisions are often slow in coming if they are made at all.

That is not the kind of government I believe most Mississippians want.

This is not a matter of transferring power from the Legislature to the governor's office. Reorganization is simply a better mousetrap—it is a better system for getting things done.

All any governor wants is to help run government as directed by the people of Mississippi. Reorganization will help achieve that goal.

For those who argue that there is no public push for state government reorganization, I would say just the opposite. Mississippians have always wanted all the government they need, but no more than they need. That is what reorganization is all about.

Mississippians want is a state government that plans for the future, rather than one that is disorganized and misdirected.

The concept of a streamlined state government that will help move our state into the 21st Century is one I believe Mississippians hold dear. And that is why the Legislature's commitment to take up this vital issue at the start of the 1989 legislative session signals what could be the start of an exciting new chapter for state government in Mississippi.

EYES ON MISSISSIPPI

By Bill Minor

Subcommittee recommends junior, senior college cooperation

Legislative proposals to strengthen the hand of the two-year-old state Board for Community and Junior Colleges and require closer coordination between junior colleges and senior colleges are being recommended to the 1989 Legislature by a Senate subcommittee.

Mississippi's 15 community and junior colleges are the "best-kept secret in higher education," said Sen. Nevitt Sledge of Cleveland, who chaired the Senate subcommittee of the Universities and Colleges Committee which has been studying the community and junior college system.

But Sledge said the system could be improved by clarifying the role of the state Board for Community and Junior Colleges as a "coordinating" board.

Sledge's group endorsed legislation to increase the size of the state board from 10 to 15 members and provide that the governor appoint one member from each junior college district in the state. Terms of the board members would be increased from six to eight years.

Enlargement of the state board had been endorsed by the politically-potent community and junior college presidents, but the Senate subcommittee rejected the presidents' proposal that the governor would have to make the board appointments from three names submitted by them.

"I don't think that (the recommendations by the presidents) will fly in the Senate," said Sen. Irb Benjamin of Renshaw, a member of the subcommittee.

Along with expansion of the state junior college board, the Senate subcommittee proposal will require two members of that board to be appointed as non-voting representatives to the state Board of Trustees of Institutions of Higher Learning. Conversely, two members of the IHL board would be designated to meet with the junior college body.

The Senate subcommittee endorsed a bill mandating each county in a junior college district to levy at least 1.1 mill ad valorem tax for support of the college. One county in the state, Sledge said, now levies no millage for support of its junior college and five or six counties were contributing less than 1 mill.

Sledge said he expected the final version of the funding proposal would call for each county to levy at least 2 mills, 1 mill for support and 1 mill for capital improvements.

Counties now can levy up to 3 mills for support and up to 3 mills for capital improvement of junior colleges. One exception is Mississippi Gulf Coast Junior College which is authorized to go up to 4 mills.

In its final report, the subcommittee pointed out that while funding for junior colleges initially was the primary obligation of the counties, now 60 per cent of junior college support comes from the state, while only 15 per cent comes from county taxes. The remainder of junior colleges support comes from student fees and federal funds.

The percentage of local taxes going to support of junior colleges has dropped from 18.7 per cent in fiscal 1977 to 15.1 per cent in 1987, according to the subcommittee report.

Proliferation of community and junior college branches around the state had prompted the 1988 Legislature to enact a bill requiring legislative approval of any new branch campus. The new legislation provided that the state Board of Community and Junior Colleges must also approve the location of a branch campus.

Benjamin said the junior college presidents has been behind the creation of the Community and Junior College Board two years ago "because they were afraid of being put under the IHL board."

The presidents, the North-east Mississippi lawmaker added, "thought they would control the board and now there is a battle going on between the presidents and the board."

While the Community and Junior College board seems to have little power, Benjamin said, "I think the board has a lot more power than it realizes."

"I think it (the board) has the power to run the junior colleges, because it can approve courses and set standards for junior colleges to qualify for appropriations."

All of this seems to indicate another legislative battle is in prospect on the junior college front, testing the political muscle of the junior college presidents.

The President's Column

I am writing this just before a meeting in New York that I am looking forward to: I will be getting together on Governor's Island with the leader of the Soviet Union, Chairman Gorbachev.

This will be our last such meeting and I must admit that I would not have predicted, after first taking office, that someday I would be waxing nostalgic about my meetings with Soviet leaders. But here we are -- for the fifth time -- Mr. Gorbachev and I together in the hope of furthering peace.

And always, in my mind, I go back to that first summit held in 1985 at a private villa on the shores of Lake Geneva. At the first of our fireside talks, I said to Mr. Gorbachev that ours was a unique meeting between two people who had the power to start World War III or to begin a new era for humanity.

The opportunity for such a new era is there and very real. That is not to say, of course, that that era is already upon us -- no, too many fundamental differences on matters such as human rights and regional tensions remain unsettled between East and West. But it is to say that there is the hope of an era in which the terrible nightmares of the postwar era -- totalitarianism and nuclear terror -- may diminish significantly and, please God, someday fade away.

Throughout the postwar period, this has always been America's agenda: that the blessings of peace and freedom we know so well in this country will someday belong to every nation, to every people. Towards this end, the United States and its allies have over the last eight years pursued a course of public candor and military strength but also a course of vigorous diplomatic engagement with the Soviets. And the Soviets have responded.

The result has been progress on a wide series of fronts. First and most obvious, we have signed the first treaty in history reducing nuclear missiles. So too, other arms negotiations are moving forward. In pursuing this cause, the Soviets must abide by past agreements, and, in this regard, the Krasnoyarsk radar violation remains a significant problem.

In the area of regional conflicts, we have seen a partial Soviet withdrawal from Afghanistan and a commitment to full withdrawal by February. In Angola, U.S. mediation has led to a ceasefire and prospects for a political settlement and withdrawal of Cuban troops. In Cambodia, steps have been taken towards a withdrawal of Vietnamese troops. And in other regions, we have seen movement towards peace.

Diamondhead Utilities rate hearing postponed

BY DENA BISNETTE
A Mississippi Public Service Commission hearing on a proposed rate increase by Diamondhead Utilities has been postponed.

According to Diamondhead Property Owners Association President Elmer Tapper, the next commission meeting is Jan. 3. A hearing date is expected to be set at that time.

He said it is most likely that the hearing will be in January or February. Tapper has already filed opposition to the proposed increase on behalf of the POA, which will more than double the cost to the average residential water and sewerage customer.

In addition, the supervisors have agreed on a resolution against the increase.

On Monday, the supervisors were able to resolve a situation in which another property owner, Daniel Smith, had asked the board to consider establishing a water and sewerage protection district in Diamondhead.

Smith had said he hoped the district might eventually be able to buy the utilities from the current owner, Purcell, and operate them.

According to Board of Supervisors Attorney Gerald Gex, the part of Smith's petition asking for creation of the district is not valid because a district already exists.

He said county records indicate that a water protection and waste disposal district was established in 1974.

The other part of the petition dealt with the opposing the rate increase.

Delisle body identified as missing Metairie girl

Skeletal remains found by hunters Saturday in a wooded area near Delisle have been identified as a 10-year-old Metairie girl who had been missing since August.

A Louisiana State University forensic team, by dental comparison, was able to determine that the remains are "definitely" those of Melissa Ann Estrade, who had disappeared from a Metairie playground on August 3, according to a Jefferson Parish Sheriff's Department spokesman.

During an intensive search of the area where the body was found, Harrison County and Jefferson Parish Sheriff's personnel, on Saturday, found a ring bearing the initial "M" not far from the skeleton. Then on Monday, after the search was joined by FBI agents, a watch, like the one the girl was wearing when last seen, was found.

Harrison County Coroner Edgar Little.

Tuesday the investigators interviewed local residents in an attempt to locate someone who might have seen or heard something while driving by four months ago.

Based on the ring and watch, along with articles of clothing found at the scene, the investigators were sure by Monday that the body was Estrade's, but would not make a public announcement until results from the dental comparison were obtained.

Jefferson Parish authorities say they have a suspect, but are not releasing any further information because they do not wish to jeopardize their case.

The remains will now be studied by forensic anthropologists, probably at the Smithsonian Institute in Washington D.C., to try to establish the cause of death, according to

The President's Column

So too, in our bilateral relations with the Soviets, there has been movement towards wider exchanges between our two peoples that bring American and Soviet citizens in closer contact and communication.

Finally, but most important, in the area of human rights we have also seen progress. Yes, we welcome recent steps like an end to jamming of Western broadcasts heard in the Soviet Union. But we are also hopeful that talk of democratic reform and greater freedom for all the Warsaw Pact countries will become more than just talk. We hope, for example, for a day when the Soviet Union will permit the publication of the works of Solzhenitsyn or the day when the Berlin Wall will be no more. Yes, we want bold words of reform about political and religious expression to become more than just words.

So for all the progress and all the hope, the journey to this final meeting between Mr. Gorbachev and me at Governor's Island has been a difficult one. And, believe me, the journey towards better Soviet-American relations will remain a difficult one. Yet it is a journey that must continue beyond any single President or term of office.

And that is why I am particularly delighted that Vice President George Bush will be joining Mr. Gorbachev and me at Governor's Island. Now, I have spoken many times about Vice President Bush's foreign policy credentials and his long experience in this field. At every stage in the summit process, he has been at my side. No one is better versed in the details of Soviet-American relations or has a stronger foreign policy portfolio than our Vice President.

So, which our get-together will not be a working summit with a formal agenda, you can be sure I will be telling Mr. Gorbachev that George Bush represents change, yes, but also continuity. That he stands for firmness and strength and candor in the cause of freedom; that he knows intimately the essentials of the Soviet-American relationship and that the American people do not want treaties for the sake of treaties, they want agreements that endure and prevent war as the world moves relentlessly towards a new birth of freedom of all humanity.

Stretch December money by planning meals ahead

By Ann O. Rushing
Family food problems multiply during the holiday season. With more special occasion food to prepare and more shopping, wrapping and decorating to do, time for day-to-day meals seems almost nonexistent. Yet there is the same hungry family needing the same balanced meals as in other months of the year.

Reduced time for day-to-day December meals might not be so bad -- if there's plenty of money to buy lots of heat-and-eat foods supplemented by frequent pickups from the fast food stores. Not so with many families, who need to stretch December food money to cover family meals plus food to share. In fact, many of us would like to save a little December food money to apply toward Christmas gifts.

Take a few minutes to think through some of the best food management practices you know: clean out the pantry and list foods needed to supplement those on hand; take a look at ways to stretch meat money without wasting time; use convenience foods that save money; and double - or triple - batch cook whenever practical.

Stretch meat money by making choices of protein that cost less on the basis of cooked, boneless meats. Stretch it further by combining it with vegetables in soups, with rice and seasonings, in casseroles, and with pastas in spaghetti, macaroni and other combination dishes.

For the sake of time saving, use the simplest preparation possible; pass up the temptation to choose combination dishes that cook quickly after several hours of chopping and assembling ingredients.

Skillet dinners that contain a whole meal, except possibly the salad, are time-savers that can be both nutritious and acceptable. Ground beef, eggs, sausage and frying chicken are commonly used choices for this type dish. Tuna and salmon, expensive in appearance, stretch in combination dishes to serve several people at reasonable cost. Chicken, beef or pork livers are also super-economy choices for those who like brains with eggs.

Beans are such obvious answers to economical main dishes that it's easy to overlook them entirely. Dry beans, cooked at home, are three to five times as economical as canned dry beans. Save time by cooking at least a pound at a time, storing unneeded amounts in jars in the freezer compartment of your refrigerator. Improve quality and avoid the overnight soak by using the house hot-soak. To do this, wash beans and cover generously with water, boil for two minutes, and turn heat off. Soak for about an hour and cook 45 minutes to 1-1/2 hours (depending on variety) until beans are tender.

To enhance the value of the vegetable protein in dry beans and peas, cook them with meat (ham bone, chopped ham, fresh pork, salt meat, or the chunky pieces from a box of bacon ends and pieces).

To further enhance their protein value, serve beans in the same meal with a glass of milk. The reason: animal protein contains all the amino acids (protein building-blocks) needed by the body. Vegetable proteins (such as beans and peas) contain some but not all these building-blocks. When meat, milk or eggs are served with vegetable proteins, the body combines vegetables and meat amino acids to its own best advantage.

You can also save meat money and preparation time by using roasts in family meals. A large pork or beef roast cooks with little attention from the cook and is usable as prepared for the first meal. Planned-over meals from it can include sandwiches from the nicest slices plus casseroles and stews from the scrappies. A neat plan-trick with beef roast includes refrigerating roast and gravy after the first meal. Slice scrap pieces and store them in gravy to reheat later for serving over toasted muffins or mashed potatoes.

COOKING UP A STORM

By Katy McGuire-Caire

It's none too soon to get busy with Christmas cookie and relish making in the kitchen, for homemade "goodies" are always an eagerly received gift, to my way of thinking.

I've been hoarding pecans just as the canny squirrels do, and shelling like mad, as I need mountains of the nuts for some of my Christmas gift confections!

Shelling and picking the nuts takes quite a while, for my brothers (in New Orleans) aren't on hand to make me keep "whistling while I work" as they used to do in childhood days, and so I munch away as I shell and pick the pecans, and it takes longer, of course—but so good!

One of my favorites for Christmas, as well as throughout the year, is a simply made but simply delicious little treat, equally as popular way back in Colonial days as today—the Pecan Confections of Old Williamsburg.

Longtime friend Odile Carter gave me this recipe several years ago, from her collection of culinary gems, and I must have cooked up thousands and thousands since! Here's:

PECAN CONFECTIONS
(I usually double the recipe, then make several batches more. If you try to triple the formula for a batch, I find that the mixture becomes unwieldy.)

1 egg white
1 cup light brown sugar
1/8 tsp. salt
1 Tbsp. flour (scant, level)
1 cup chopped pecans

Beat the egg white to a stiff froth—I use a wire whisk. Mix the brown sugar with the flour and salt, and add very, very gradually to the egg white. Gently fold in the pecans. Drop the mixture by small, rounded teaspoonfuls (I use a demi tasse or other smaller spoon) onto greased cookie sheets. Be sure to leave a little space in between, as always, when baking drop cookies, for they tend to spread during baking.

Bake in a 350 degree oven for approximately 15 minutes. Let cool a bit before removing from cookie sheets. That's all there is to it, but, oh, the taste!

James H. Lewis Jr. was recently promoted to vice-president of Mason Chamberlain Incorporated (MCI), the operating contractor of the Mississippi Army Ammunition Plant.

Mason Chamberlain's President, Richard Auger, made the official announcement after an MCI Board of Directors meeting held on Thursday, November 17.

James H. Lewis has been with MCI since its formation in 1976, and has been the plant manager for the Load, Assemble, and Pack facility for the past eight years.

Prior to joining Mason Chamberlain Lewis was a production manager at the Iowa Army Ammunition plant, operated by one of the parent organizations, Mason & Hanger - Silas Mason Company. His career with the Mason Hanger Company spanned 25 years.

He is also chairman of the load, assemble, and pack section of the American Defense Preparedness Association, which includes a steering committee membership in the Ammunition Technology Division of the association.

Lewis and his wife, Evelyn, reside in Picayune.

Officers went to the funeral hoping to make the arrest, but he was not there. He was later arrested at his grandmother's house, Burleson said.

He is also charged with one count of simple assault, for which another warrant was issued against him on August 5 of this year.

He is being held in Hancock County Jail on a $20,000 bond.

GRAND LARCENY

A Bay man was arrested in Gulfport on grand larceny charges Tuesday in connection with the burglary of his girlfriend's residence.

David Arel, 31, had been arrested November 20 after his girlfriend's property, including a television set, microwave oven, furniture and a 1978 Mazda automobile, were recovered at Bubba's Lounge in Gulfport.

The second arrest came after it was determined Arel had sold some of the items, including a combination telephone/answering machine, according to Detective Tom Burleson. Arel is out of jail on a $5,000 bond.

Burleson and Detective Don Osco made the arrest with assistance from the Gulfport Police Department.

When the Clock is Ticking

In an emergency medical situation, which is more important—the quality of medical attention or the time that elapses before medical attention is received?

The answer is "all of the above."

The first few minutes after an accident are the most crucial. Often accident victims suffer irreparable damage or even death simply because they didn't receive help quickly enough.

So when the clock is ticking, the doctors and staff of the Hancock Medical Center emergency room act promptly and efficiently to see that accident victims receive medical attention critical to stabilizing their condition and minimizing their injuries.

"We've developed a triage system that ensures that the people who need help receive it immediately," said Dr. Maria Hugi, HMC emergency room physician. "When a Hancock Medical Center's emergency room features five treatment stations, each specially equipped to treat specific types of emergencies. For instance, a heart attack victim would be taken to one station for treatment. A broken or fractured bone would be treated at another, while yet another is specifically designed to treat trauma victims.

Dr. Hugi stressed that the training of the nurses plays a vital part in the success of Hancock Medical Center's emergency room.

"It takes a special type of person to be an emergency room nurse," she said. "It takes a lot of training, a cool head, and a commitment to the highest levels of efficiency. I think the hospital is fortunate to have such a highly skilled staff of nurses so committed to emergency health care. Also, in addition to being experienced in the often stressful emergency room environment, HMC nurses are certified in Advanced Cardiac Life Support. This certification gives a much needed 'edge' in treating cardiac patients."

As an emergency healthcare specialist, Dr. Hugi's assessment of the HMC emergency room takes on special significance. For ten years, Dr. Hugi and her husband, Dr. Joseph Litner, have worked in the demanding field of emergency health care. Further, as board-certified emergency medical specialists, Dr. Hugi and Dr. Litner are responsible for the examination for certification of physicians who, like them, want to use their skills where they are needed most.

"It's always stressful, yes, but in an emergency situation, a patient is at his most vulnerable. It's then I'm needed most, and it's then that my skills as a physician are the most rewarding. When I can help a patient live who might have died otherwise, all the stress, all the intensity is worth it."

"... the training of the nurses plays a vital part in the success of Hancock Medical Center's emergency room."

Dr. Hugi is enthusiastic about the Hancock Medical Center emergency department.

"The Hancock Medical Center emergency department is very well equipped with state-of-the-art emergency medical technology and is more prepared for certain types of patient comes into the emergency room, the receptionist asks the patient about his symptoms. If we determine it's a situation where immediate attention is required, say a heart attack, a nurse or a physician attends to that patient without delay."

HMC '89: "We're Positioned for Progress!"

An interview with Hancock Medical Center Administrator Phil Wolfe

HealthWise: The end of a year is a time for reflection, as well as for looking ahead. We'd like you to do both for a moment. What accomplishments of 1988 have laid foundations for the coming year?

Phil Wolfe: We achieved several major goals in this past year which will position Hancock Medical Center more firmly as a major healthcare leader on the Mississippi Gulf Coast. We're on much more solid ground financially than we were two years ago. We've laid the foundations for new services which will be implemented in the coming months and will result in more comprehensive healthcare services to our community. We've initiated internal programs, such as our Employee of the Quarter program and our Volunteer Awards banquet. Additionally, we've begun a more intensive outreach program and laid the foundation for several new educational services.

HealthWise: What plans has Hancock Medical Center made to get the most out of these achievements?

Phil Wolfe: We've developed and finalized a strategic plan, and we're concentrating on very specific, well-defined areas of opportunity. To put it very simply, we've defined the community's needs as we see them; we've made a plan to address those needs; and we're going to be following our plan toward a successful and more committed 1989.

It's important to stress that Hancock Medical Center's development of new services is based on community need. We determine the extent of the need in several ways. We receive input from physicians. We meet with community leaders and receive valuable insights from them. We interpret our own demographic data on needs and resources in the community and the projected needs of the future. In these ways, we can anticipate future needs and prepare to meet them through enhanced services and facilities, and the addition of physicians and staff members.

HealthWise: So the development of Hancock Medical Center's services focuses on community need?

Phil Wolfe: Very definitely. It's our major criteria.

I see Hancock Medical Center as a full partner in this community's progress, and only by continually monitoring the needs of the community can Hancock Medical Center provide the healthcare leadership that full partnership implies.

HealthWise: What specific new services will be developed by Hancock Medical Center in 1989?

Phil Wolfe: Actually, we began the implementation of 1989 services in November of '88. That's when we started dialysis service to renal patients in Hancock County. Our dialysis center, which is operated in

HMC Dialysis Center: Saving Time While Saving Lives

Hancock County kidney patients now have more freedom and more time to enjoy a better quality of life. Through Hancock Medical Center's new dialysis center, approximately 20 patients in Hancock County and its surrounding communities are receiving the treatments they must have, without the time and expense of traveling.

The life of a kidney or "renal" patient, a person whose kidneys are either damaged or non-functional, is a rigid schedule of dialysis several times a week. Dialysis is a treatment by which the blood of a patient is circulated through a dialysis machine or "kidney machine" which acts as a filter, cleaning impurities from the blood that the patient's kidneys can no longer eliminate.

"Our kidneys filter our blood constantly," said Dr. Douglas Lanier, HMC nephrologist.

"When the kidneys are damaged or totally non-functional, the blood must be cleansed by dialysis. The amount of time needed and the number of times a week treatments are needed depend on the extent of the kidney's damage.

"Previously, Hancock County kidney patients had to travel to Slidell or Gulfport—about 25 miles either way. The dialysis capabilities of Hancock Medical Center will mean these patients can be treated close to home."

The HMC dialysis center is operated in conjunction with Gulfport Memorial Hospital. The center features four "stations" each equipped with a dialysis machine and the necessary support facilities. The center will be staffed by personnel specially trained in the conjunction with Gulfport Memorial Hospital, serves renal patients, those people whose kidneys are either damaged or totally non-functional. Previously, these patients had to drive either to Gulfport or to Slidell for treatment—and they'd have to make the trip two to three times a week.

In January, we'll be offering CT scanning services which will greatly improve our diagnostic abilities and, consequently, the capabilities of our medical staff. We will be putting more of an emphasis on women's health care, and we will add services, such as the mammography capabilities which began in July of this year.

In addition to added treatment facilities, we anticipate adding between two and four physicians to our staff. These additions, as recommended by our medical staff, will greatly increase Hancock Medical Center's ability to render prompt, cost-effective medical care.

In January, we'll be offering CT scanning services which will greatly improve our diagnostic abilities and, consequently, the capabilities of our medical staff.

Finally, throughout 1989, we'll be placing a much greater emphasis on community education than ever before. We'll be offering educational presentations on a regular basis which will explore healthcare topics of community interest. Also, we'll be devoting much more time and energy to printed materials, such as HealthWise and educational health columns to inform the public of healthcare issues that affect our community.

As you can see, Hancock Medical Center is growing in its services, staff, and its involvement with the community.

HealthWise: With so much going on, you must be excited by the prospects for the coming year.

Phil Wolfe: Yes, very definitely. These three aspects of the hospital's growth are very exciting. As I said earlier, they indicate that Hancock Medical Center is assuming a position of leadership; of looking to the future and preparing to meet it with enhanced services, an increase in personnel, and a new commitment to the people of Hancock County and the surrounding communities.

We're prepared for the future's challenges, and we're positioned for progress. I think '89 will be a great year. ■ treatment of dialysis patients. Patients will be admitted into the HMC dialysis program only after recommendation by their physician.

"We're excited about this new service to the renal patients of Hancock County," said Phil Wolfe, HMC administrator. "This new center demonstrates HMC's commitment to address every healthcare issue affecting the people of Hancock County. Also, as a joint operation with Gulfport Memorial Hospital, the HMC dialysis center demonstrates HMC's commitment to providing needed services in innovative and cost-effective ways.

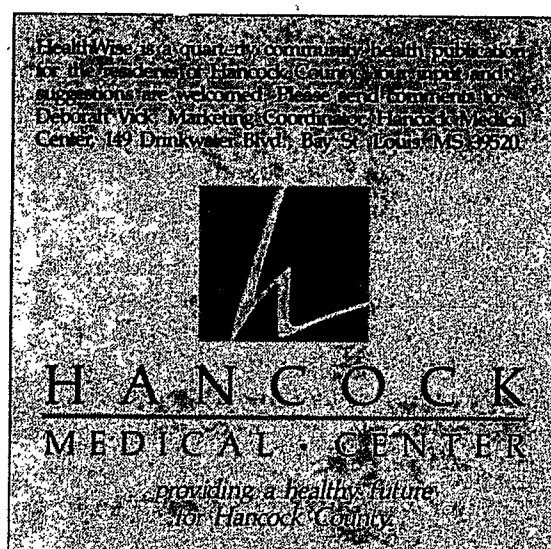

"Most importantly, the presence of this dialysis center means more mobility for kidney patients. They save time in their

"The physicians and administration of HMC have made a commendable commitment to emergency health care. Their commitment shows in the facility itself, in the training of its staff, and in the quality of treatment every patient who walks through the door receives."

Tigers split close games with Pass High

By Kanta Haynes
Bay High Correspondent

On Tuesday, November 22 the Bay High Tigers and Lady Tigers traveled to Vancleave to go against the Bulldogs in a three-game contest that began at 5 p.m. in the Bulldog gym.

Although placing three players in double figures and out-rebounding the ninth-ranked team 31-18, the Tigers fell to 1-4 on the season with a 96-75 loss to the Bulldogs.

Freddie Necaise led the way with 19 points. Juniors Cedric Walker and Micah Necaise contributed 18 and 16 points, respectively. Also scoring for the Tigers were David Weems with nine points, Will Seymour with seven points, and Mike Scharp added two points.

"We were beaten by a tremendous ball club, and I thought we played three good quarters," stated Coach Michael Ladner.

Bay High had a tremendous effort on the boards with F. Necaise leading with 15 rebounds and Walker grabbing 11 caroms. M. Necaise chipped in 5 assists.

Vancleave placed five players in double figures. The Bulldogs shot a blistering 67 percent from the field.

Monti Noblitt lead the Bulldogs with 23 points with Quincy Jackson adding 17 and Joe Buxton, 16. Darryl Williams tipped in 15 points and Shannon Riles, 13.

The Lady Tigers took a 61-55 victory over the Lady Bulldogs of Vancleave to mark their first win of the season.

In the first quarter the Lady Tigers fell behind the Lady Bulldogs, 16-7. The Lady Tigers cut that margin to 26-22 at halftime before taking a 42-35 lead in the third quarter.

A determined Lady Tiger team held on to their lead throughout the last quarter and were awarded a 61-55 decision.

The Lady Tigers were led by three senior starters with Deborah Deloach marking the way. Deloach scored 24 points and added seven rebounds.

Senior point guard Dedra McGowan added seven points along with four steals to accent her ball-handling and defensive pressure.

Others in the score column were Kinta Ladner with six; Stacey Sheppard, four; Kecia

Walker, two and Vida Laneaux, two.

Ladner stated, "Not only was it good to have a victory, but the girls played an excellent ball game."

The junior varsity Vancleave Bulldogs defeated the junior varsity Tigers, 42-33.

In closing Ladner added, "The Tigers and Lady Tigers are starting to score, and that should add up to more wins somewhere throughout the season -- but more importantly, in the district tournament in February."

Stokes may be added to Bay boxing card

BY DENA BISNETTE
Another match may be added to Saturday night's boxing card at the Hancock County Fairgrounds.

Tiger Stokes of Moss Point, who recently signed a big bonus contract with one of the country's biggest promoters, Kronk Boxing of Detroit, may be substituted for one of the boxers scheduled to fight or may be added to the card if an opponent can be found, Promoter Fred Williams said.

"That would be a big bonus for the local people because Stokes is expected to be a world champion 20 to 24 months from now," said the promoter, who has been working with Stokes since the fighter was 12.

Stokes is currently boxing in the junior welterweight division and was scheduled for a television appearance in Cleveland on the undercard of a world light heavyweight championship.

A possible cancellation of that match may make it possible for Stokes, a bronze medalist in last year's world championships in Havana at only 17 and the first American to stop a Cuban fighter in Cuba since 1979, to fight in Bay St. Louis Saturday.

The show starts at 7:30 p.m. Of the 220 reserved table seats selling for $15, about 60 are still available. General admission tickets are $10 each. Part of the proceeds will benefit the Hancock County Lawmen's Association.

Local players selected for District team

BY DENA BISNETTE

Eight local high school football players have been named to the All-District VIII Division 16-3-A team.

Coach Joseph Brown of Pass Christian said four of his players were named, including LaShan Ausmer, a junior wide receiver; Anthony Morel, a senior defensive lineman; Jimmy Ladner, a senior linebacker; and Eric Dawkins, a senior cornerback.

Four Bay High players were also named to the team. They are Heath Hoppood, a junior linebacker; Darran Washington, a senior running back; Doral Nichols, a senior defensive end; and Douglas Rhodes, a senior cornerback.

In addition, several players were selected for honorable mentions. Those from Pass Christian include Willie Earl Washington, sophomore linebacker; Tracy Watts, sophomore quarterback; Thad Williams, sophomore offensive guard; Chris Dedeaux, junior defensive end; and Donald Knight, sophomore linebacker.

Bay High players named to the honorable mention squad include Chris Savage, Tim Allen, Brian Favre, Chuckie Dorsey and David LaGros.

The team is an honorary designation only. According to Brown, coaches select the players through a voting process. They are able to nominate their own players but may not vote for them.

The coaches also select a Coach of the Year. This year's recipient of the honor is Hal Holmes, a former Picayune coach now at Vancleave High School.

SSC captures Catholic Tournament

The St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws defeated St. John and Mercy Cross to capture the Catholic Tournament held at St. Stanislaus this past weekend.

The Rock-A-Chaws defeated St. John in the semifinals 52-45 behind the 21-point effort of forward Shannon Garrett. Chad Mathews contributed 11 points, and Chris Perrone had 10 points and 10 rebounds.

"We got off to a slow start, but our overall performance got better as the game went on," said SSC head coach Chuck Genin.

"St. John is our Catholic rival and they do a good job getting prepared for us," commented Genin.

In the finals held Saturday evening, the Rocks beat Mercy Cross 79-72 aided by Chris Perrone's 29 points. Garrett contributed 22 points. Although the score was tied at the end of three quarters, the Rocks pulled away in the final stanza to secure the win.

"The team played a great second half vs. Mercy Cross, and our defense picked up intensity," said Genin.

"Our third quarter pressure wore them down and enabled us to push ahead in the fourth quarter. Our inside game forced them into foul trouble in the second half and we made some clutch free throws," commented Genin.

"Our guards played well and led our fast-break offense. I'm very proud of our team. They wanted this championship bad and we got it. I'm very pleased with our fan support and hope it will continue," concluded Genin.

Names to the All-

Tournament team from SSC were Greg Schuff who averaged eight assists and three steals, Chris Perrone who averaged 19 points and eight rebounds, and MVP Shannon Garrett who averaged 21 points and six rebounds.

The Rock-A-Chaws are now 8-1, and play tonight (Thursday) in the D'Iberville Tournament at 4:30 against St. John.

SSC Junior Rocks continue to win

The eighth grade St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaw basketball team upped its record to 3-1 with a convincing win over St. Paul's from Covington, La. 52-31 in a contest played Monday afternoon in the SSC gymnasium.

Leading scorers for Coach Rory Rafferty's Rock-A-Chaws were Jeff Bishop with 15 points, followed by Kevin Behan with 14 points.

High scorer for St. Paul was Jeremy Champagne with nine points.

In the ninth grade contest, Coach Larry Ramsey's Rock-A-Chaws overcame a ten-point deficit to overtake St. Paul's ninth grade team 43-41 to maintain a perfect 3-0 record.

Brandon Smith led the SSC squad with 12 points Nolan Sylvan had 21 for St. Paul.

St. Stanislaus plays Wednesday night in the Hancock North Central Junior High Tournament. The ninth grade plays Picayune at 9 p.m. and the eighth grade will play HNC at 7 p.m.

Hardwood Booster Club announces new officers

The Hancock North Central Hardwood Booster Club announced its officers for 1989 at its Meet-the-Team Night held recently at the school.

The new officers are: Werlin Ladner Jr., president; Darrell Ladner, vice-president; and Debbie Moran, secretary/treasurer.

The goal of the booster club is to promote the junior and senior high basketball programs at North Central. They hold an annual fundraiser, and sell T-shirts, stadium cushions and half-time free throws to help the teams buy supplies and awards, according to Moran.

The club also helps pay for banquets and meals on away trips. This year they will sponsor a junior and senior high tournament, Moran says.

Anyone interested in joining the booster club should contact one of the officers.

Nine named to MPSAA 1-A All-District Team

The 1988 Coast Episcopal High School Raider football team closed the season with a 2-7 record.

Despite the win-loss record, the 1988 Raiders placed nine players on the Mississippi Private School Athletic Association tion 1-A All-District Team. First team selections were junior Jamie White as offensive tackle, junior Scott Covode as defensive back and junior Billy Guice as the field goal kicker.

Second team selections were senior Beau Lambert as center, junior Hutson Lambert as line-backer, and junior Sterling Thibodeaux as running back.

Honorable Mention designees were senior Johnny Mount, juniors Scott Hourin and Tommy Stevens.

The Raiders are looking forward to an improved season next year with eight starters returning, said Coach Bill Riggs. This is the first year for the Raiders to be members of the Mississippi Private School Athletic Association.

Undersized oysters protected by BMR

State Bureau of Marine Resources officials are considering additional protection for oysters on Square Handkerchief Reef, after conservation officers arrested 14 fishermen Tuesday for catching undersized oysters.

Hank Boudreaux, supervising conservation officer, said the fishermen averaged between three and four sacks of small oysters.

Scott Gordon, BMR biologist, said that BMR staff members are working on a protection measure to present to the Wildlife Commission at the next commission meeting.

Square Handkerchief is an oyster-dredging reef in the Mississippi Sound about 1.5 miles south of Henderson Point in West Harrison County.

Oysters must be at least three inches long before they can be legally harvested. Boudreaux said that the undersized oysters recovered Tuesday averaged about 1.5 inches long.

Gordon said that taking undersized oysters reduces future oyster crops.

MYRON LABAT JR.

Labat claims Junior Tennis state title

St. Stanislaus eighth grader Myron Labat Jr. laid claim to the 1988 Champion's trophy after defeating number-three-seeded Mark Mann of Vicksburg in the final round of the Mississippi Tennis Association Junior Circuit Tennis Tournament held in Laurel last weekend.

Labat, the number-two-seeded player in the Boys' 14-and-under division, also defeated Donnie McCallum of Tylertown and Nolan Cooper of Daphne, Ala. and lost a total of only one set during the tournament enroute to an impressive victory over Mann.

The champion employed a vastly improved backhand passing shot along with a good first serve percentage to improve upon his 1987 runner-up showing in the same tournament.

Labat's younger sister Marion also participated in the Girls' 12-and-under division and gained valuable experience. Labat is member of the St. Stanislaus High School Varsity Tennis team. Both are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Myron Labat Sr. of Bay St. Louis.

Lady Tigers clench first win

Tigers travel to Vancleave

By Kanta Haynes
BHS Correspondent

The Bay High Tigers varsity and junior varsity basketball teams battled arch-rival and district opponent Pass High last week in the Tiger Dome splitting two very close and hard-fought varsity contests.

In the boys' game Bay High was led by Micah Necaise, who put in an outstanding effort offensively, scoring 38 points.

Necaise shot 17 of the 19 free throws and hit many clutch baskets in the fourth quarter. Necaise shot 17 of the 19 free throws and hit many clutch baskets in the fourth quarter. Necaise also grabbed six rebounds and dished out five assists.

Along with M. Necaise, Freddie Necaise also had an outstanding night pulling down 19 rebounds and pumping in 16 points for the game.

Other Tigers contributing to the Bay High win were Cedric Walker with 13 points and eight rebounds and Will Seymour added 12 points, including three important three point baskets. Seymour also had four assists and three steals which helped preserve the win for the Tigers. David Weems added five points and Mike Sharp, three.

Pass High was led by Bobby Ladner with 25 points and five rebounds. Ladner sunk the last second shot which tied the game at the end of regulation.

The Tigers picked up their second win of the season during overtime play, 89-80. The Tigers are now 2-4.

Coach Michael Ladner stated, "It was a very good victory for us. I didn't want to go into an overtime, but now that we've won the game, it was a good experience for us."

LADY TIGERS

The Lady Tigers fell short to the Lady Pirates, 56-47, in a well-played contest. The Lady Tigers are now 1-5 on the season.

"The girls gave a good effort against a very good basketball team. We are getting better each game and we know more victories are ahead," commented Ladner.

The Lady Tigers had an outstanding offensive night from Debra Deloach with 19 points and six rebounds and Kinta Ladner with 17 points and nine caroms.

Another Lady Tiger helping Bay High's cause was Tunisia McKay with 13 rebounds and four points. Senior Debra McGowan added three points to go along with ball-handling and defensive contributions throughout the game.

Wildcats seek to break losing streak

The Lady Wildcats need something good to happen for a change, and now would be a perfect time.

Pearl River Community College's women's basketball squad is in the midst of a four-game losing streak following a trip to Texas for the Panola Junior College Classic. Coach Polly Kirkland would like to see that string end during this week's games with South Division foes Copiah-Lincoln and Southwest community colleges.

The Lady Cats will host Col. Lin and travel to Southwest Dec. 8. They began the tournament with a heart-breaking loss to Trinity Valley, which entered the game with a 13-0 record, when Antrice McGill shot right before the buzzer was disallowed, leaving the score at 80-78.

Following the game, McGill, who has struggled with injuries this season, had to be taken to the hospital with a sinus infection and swollen lymph glands. She was able to return the following day, and in limited action scored 24 points in a 90-70 loss to host Panola, which entered the game with a 10-3 record.

Kirkland said McGill should be able to play this week, though she'll be at only 80 percent strength. She added that the 6-2 sophomore from Picayune, who is averaging almost 29 points per game, has done well this season despite injury.

"She's handled it with a lot of character and a lot of class," Kirkland said.

She added her 5-5 team has played well despite the skid.

Last week in a 86-84 loss to division opponent East Central, The Lady Wildcats shot 58.6 percent from the floor and 93.3 percent from the line.

Unfortunately, East Central shot 80.4 percent from the floor as a team, and had six players who were perfect from the field.

And Kirkland pointed out that most of that shooting was done from the outside.

She added that while things have been rough for her squad over the last two weeks, it will have its benefits.

"All this is going to help us in the end," she said. "That's exactly why we went to Texas."

Kirkland said there is no shortage of tough competition in the state, but she wanted her squad to see some new faces and some good teams from outside of the area.

We played two excellent teams in Texas," she said. "Those teams pressed from baseline to baseline for 40 minutes."

"We got what we expected in Texas," she said.

She said the Lady Cats, which have had trouble with the press in the past, did well against it in the tournament.

Lady Bulldogs to host rival USM

Mississippi State returns Thursday to the friendly confines of Humphrey Coliseum where it will host Southern Mississippi to a 7 p.m. tip-off.

MSU's Lady Bulldogs should be well-rested as their last outing came Saturday versus host Memphis State in the title game of the Kitchens Unlimited Litton Classic. MSU lost that game, 83-75, but defeated Alabama-Birmingham, 71-65, in the first round and remains above .500 with a record of 3-2.

Likewise, Southern Mississippi's last outing came in tournament play Saturday. Southern Mississippi, however, played the host and emerged the tourney champion with a 81-59 first-round win Friday over Wichita State and then an 84-79 victory over Alabama in Saturday's title game. USM's Lady Golden Eagles enter Thursday's confrontation with a record of 3-0, having opened the season with an 89-71 win over William Carey in Hattiesburg.

Southeast Missouri edges Delta State in overtime

Southeast Missouri State point guard Dwayne Rutherford stole the ball from Delta State guard Tony Heidelberg with four seconds left in the overtime and drove the length of the court for the winning basket to propel the nationally ranked Indians to a 68-66 victory over the Statesmen Wednesday.

Delta State was trying to set up the potential winning score after calling a time out with 14 seconds left in the extra period when Rutherford made the winning theft.

The Statesmen had a chance to win at the free throw line with two seconds remaining in regulation play and the score tied at 61, but Charlie Lowe missed both of his free shots to send the game into overtime.

Heidelberg's three-point goal with 22 seconds left pulled the Statesmen even at 61.

DSU coach Steve Rives pointed to missed free throws, 10 of 24 in the game and particularly the seven of 16 by his team in the second half, as costing dearly.

"We lost the William Carey game last week on missed free throws late," the third-year coach said, "and that happened again tonight."

However, Rives was pleased with the play of Heidelberg, Kevin Dixon and Eric Hite.

Delta State led 28-23 at the intermission after being up by 24-16 with 4:52 remaining in the period when Victor Smith hit a 12-foot jump shot. The Statesmen moved up 30-23 in Dixon's layin 34 seconds into the final half, but SEMO battled back to take a 50-43 advantage on Lawrence Wilson's two free throws with 11:15 left in the game.

The Indians had a 57-50 lead after Wilson's basket with 7 1/2 minutes to play, but Hite hit a short jumper in the paint to put the Statesmen up 58-57 with 4:49 remaining.

Mike Lewis countered with a pair of free throws and Rutherford added a layup to make it 61-58 Southeast Missouri with 3:21 to play.

Lewis led the 6-0 Missourians with 20 points, 12 of them from three-point range while Rutherford finished with 16 and Wilson added 15 and 12 rebounds for Southeast Missouri.

Dixon's 19 points and eight rebounds paced the 1-3 Statesmen while Heidelberg finished with 12 markers.

The loss was the third straight for Delta State which remains at home to play the University of Central Arkansas Saturday night.

PRC freshmen gain experience on court

The Pearl River Community College basketball squad has made strides this fall, but there is still a lot of ground to cover if the Wildcats hope to be competitive in the South Division race.

Coach Peter Georgian said his Cats, who have been beginning each game with as many as five freshmen on the court, have improved, but they are not where he hoped they would be by this point in the season.

He said he is especially disappointed in the production of his guards.

"The key to winning is our guards," he said, adding that the point and off guard players are contributing only three points per game as a unit, and are leading the team in turnovers.

"It's hard to win ball games like that," he said.

As a team the Cats are giving the ball away almost 17 times per game, down from their season high of 25 turnovers per game.

"I think eight to 10 (turnovers a game) would be more than enough," Georgian said.

He said the team's 5-8 record is not the result of lack of effort. Georgian said the players are giving it their best; they are just making too many freshmen mistakes.

He said poor free throw shooting and a tough schedule have also played their parts.

As a team, the Wildcats are shooting only 68 percent from the line coming off a 61 percent performance during the Pearl River Coke Classic this weekend.

PRC finished fifth in the tourney with a 1-2 record, while Gulf Coast took the title with a 3-0 mark. Bossier Parish placed second at 2-1 and Pensacola finished third with the same record. Delgado finished fourth at 1-2.

The Cats will play two division foes this week, meeting Copiah-Lincoln Dec. 5 at home, and Southwest on the road Dec. 8. They finish the week with a road game against Delgado Junior College in New Orleans Dec. 10.

Bassin' with the pros

Mapping your way to more bass

Maps aren't just for lost travelers. They're for bass fishermen, too.

That's the opinion of Evinrude Outboards Pro Staff member Mickey Bruce, who uses them regularly in professional tournament competition.

"Maps let you eliminate a lot of water on a lake before you ever leave your living room," explains the Georgia angler. "With a little study you can find a lot of potentially productive areas in just a few minutes. If you simply went out searching for them in your boat with nothing but a depthfinder to guide you, you would probably need hours to find them."

What Bruce looks for on a map varies from season to season, but his primary interest is in finding well-defined depth changes, since bass everywhere seem to prefer places where shallow and deep water meet. Channel drop-offs, creek mouths, and even fast-falling shorelines are all things Bruce might circle on his map.

"About 90 percent of the fish I catch are less than 15 feet deep," he explains, "and in the fall months, the depth is more often between five and about 12 feet. With a good map, I can find these depths easily, then go straight to them once I'm actually on the water."

The types of maps Bruce recommends anglers try to obtain are navigation charts, usually published by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers. They're extremely accurate in showing depth variations along the full length of a particular waterway. These maps may cost as much as $25 per copy, but if you fish a lake often, or want to learn it well, these are well worth the investment.

"Many marinas and tackle shops around a lake will sell less expensive maps," explains Bruce, "and while these may be good basic fishing maps, they often aren't quite as accurate. The main thing any lake map needs to show is depth changes, which are expressed as contour lines, just like on a topographic map."

The key to locating potentially good depth changes, explains Bruce, is first locating wide flats where the depths don't change. That means the contour lines on your map will be far apart. These areas are potential spawning areas where bass will concentrate in the spring.

"In many lakes," says the Evinrude pro, "bass don't move that far from these spawning bays the rest of the year. They will migrate out to deeper water, often to the first channel break or first major depth change. There they will either suspend or hold right on the edge of the dropoff."

"What you do with your map is follow the flat out to where you see the depth change, where the contour lines suddenly get close together. That means the water gets deep in a hurry, and that's always a good place to find bass."

Once Bruce has several such areas pinpointed, all falling within his 0-to-15 foot range, he heads out on the water to find them. Using a depthfinder he can outline them and see exactly what type of structure or cover is present, and judge how to fish them most efficiently.

"Using a map gives me a sense of confidence on a new lake," explains Bruce, "because I can form a game plan before I start fishing. One of the worst feelings in the world is heading out on a huge new lake you've never seen without any idea of where to start fishing."

"Studying a map beforehand stops that feeling and lets me plan a place to start."

BHS National Honor Society inducts 20

By Chris Heaps
BHS Correspondent

The Bay High chapter of the National Honor Society inducted 20 new members on Wednesday, Nov. 30 in the school library. Six seniors and 14 juniors pledged their allegiance to the age-old society which began in 1921.

The ceremony opened as existing officers spoke of the society's four virtues: service, character, scholarship and leadership. The Honorable Walter J. Gex, U.S. District Court judge, then delivered the address. Gex spoke of honor and morals, and in his words, "doing what's right."

"I urge that you remember one word...and that's integrity," Gex said as he went on to paraphrase such men as Mark Twain and John F. Kennedy.

Induction followed as juniors Katherine Cuevas, Holli DeCamp, Tammy Ehrlich, Tonya Hardee, Jennifer Johnson, Larry Ladner and Heather Lord joined 10 present members. Also inducted were juniors Micah Necaise, Shantel Nelson, Ana Maria Scafidi, Courtney Thomas, Son Van Tran, Denene Ware and Angie Weems. Senior inductees included Michelle Charles, Deborah Deloach, Nicole Gorman, Tonya Harper, April Lowrance and Teresa Roberson.

During the ceremony inductees each received a candle which was lighted while president Erica Shipp told of the students' achievements. Inductees then repeated the society's pledge after vice president Nathan Barber. Audience and National Honor Society members, old and new, then moved to the Home Economics Department for refreshments.

The National Honor Society is a nationwide organization which was founded by Edward Rynerson and now has more than 20,000 chapters. Headquarters are located in Reston, Va. To be eligible to enter the society, a student must be a junior or senior with a grade point average of 90 or above and cannot have an 'F' in any of his or her courses. Each student must pass a teacher evaluation to enter.

This year the club and its sponsors, Mrs. Freda Cameron, Mrs. Gloria Dean, and Mr. Billy Rhodes, plan a blood drive, which will be held in December, a Christmas program for the elementary special education students, an annual cookout, and at least one field trip.

Earlier this year, the society sponsored a canned food drive for the victims of Hurricane Gilbert. Last year they took part in the retirement of Mr. Frank Ladner and sponsored an Easter egg hunt for the elementary special education students.

She was a divine diva. An operatic prima donna. A passionate woman living a fairy tale life.

But for Maria Callas, on stage and off, the drama never stopped. She was an enormous talent haunted by a turbulent temper. "Great Performances" profiles this amazing woman in "Maria Callas: An Operatic Biography" at 9 p.m. Friday, Dec. 9, on Mississippi ETV.

IN BRIEF

TEEN ADDICTION

A free community seminar 'Double Trouble For Teenagers: Adolescence and Addiction' is being cosponsored by the Mississippi Gulf Coast YMCA and CPC Sand Hill Hospital on Tuesday, Dec. 13 at 7 p.m. in the Ocean Springs High School Auditorium.

Speaker will be Rose Marie Newsom, chemical dependency program coordinator, CPC Sand Hill Hospital. The seminar will deal with the problems of addiction to drugs and alcohol during adolescence, an age of many conflicts and issues to overcome.

Pre-registration is encouraged by calling 875-5050 (YMCA) or 1-800-831-1700 (Sand Hill). The seminar is free and open to the public.

St. Stanislaus names 'Seniors of Month'

CHRIS ARCEMENT

Brother Paul Montero, principal of St. Stanislaus High School, announced that Chris Arcement, Chad Mathews, and Craig Sweeney have been named "Seniors of the Month" respectively for the months of September, October and November. This special award, which is voted on by the faculty members at St. Stanislaus, recognizes those seniors who display in a unique manner the character traits of sincerity, enthusiasm, family spirit, involvement, observance and responsibility.

Arcement, the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Arcement of Pass Christian, is an alpha honor roll student and a member of the national honor society. He is president of the St. Stanislaus Computer Club; and last year he earned the computer club service award. He is president of the journalism club and serves as editor of the "Rock-A-Chaw" newspaper.

Mathews is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Mathews of Lafayette, La. He is vice-president of the student council and serves on the leadership council of S.A.D.D. (Students Against Driving Drunk). He is a member of the St. Stanislaus Key Club, and he is a letterman on the varsity basketball team.

Sweeney, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carleton Sweeney of Baton Rouge, La., is a beta honor roll student and class president. He participates in varsity football, basketball, and track. As a senior on the football team he has chosen as a permanent team captain and he won the coaches award. He was named Pepsi "Student of the Year" as a junior.

Nine OLA students in Duke Talent Identification Program

Nine seventh grade students at Our Lady Academy in Bay St. Louis have been selected as candidates in the Duke University Talent Identification Program.

They are LaTanya Bradley, daughter of Sylvia Bradley of Gulfport; Danielle Gobert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Gobert of Diamondhead; Kahra

Martinez, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Martinez of Slidell; Trinity Nievas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Nievas of Gulfport; Rachel Pope, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Pope of Bay St. Louis; Mary Scardino, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Scardino of Pass Christian; Debbie Strong, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Strong of Bay St. Louis; Aspen Trauth, daughter of Betty Trauth of Diamondhead; and Heather Wittmann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Wittmann of Pass Christian.

These students had test scores above the 97th percentile on the California Achievement Test given in the sixth grade.

The Duke University Program is focusing on exceptionally bright students in the sixteen states in the Southeastern United States.

In December or January, these students will take the S.A.T. with college bound juniors and seniors.

The objectives of the program are to identify the very bright at an early age; to assist in the educational facilitation of these students; to follow their talent through the critical middle and high school years; to assist in their placement in colleges and universities that match the student's potential and to develop an effective research effort to help understand the nature of gifted adolescents.

OLA principal, Sister Jacqueline Howard RSM, indicated that "OLA is fortunate to have such talented students... Almost one third of the seventh grade class tests in the top three percent nationwide."

Last year OLA student Leanne Bennett was identified in this program and attended the Duke University summer program in the field of psychology.

ADOPT-A-BEACH PROGRAM—Five-year-old Emily Mahler, seven-year-old Sarah Mahler and their mother, Carol Mahler, clean a section of beach near the Ulman Avenue Pier in Bay St. Louis. The Mahler family collect three or four bags of trash each week and chose to adopt their particular part of the beach after spending an afternoon cleaning up debris left after the recent pier renovation. For more information on adopting a section of beach, contact the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce at 467-9048. (Echo staff photo by Dena Bisnette)

Duke exceptional program selects 3 CEHS candidates

Three seventh grade students at Coast Episcopal High School have been selected as candidates in the Duke University Talent Identification Program.

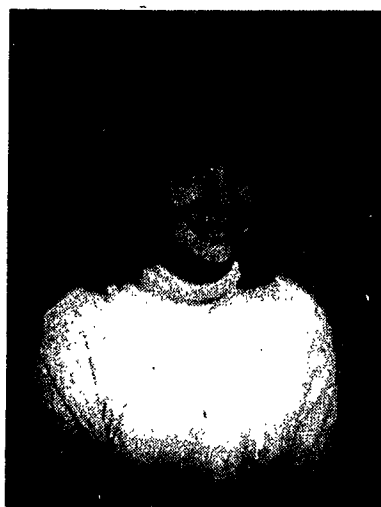

These students are Regina Bossier, daughter of Ms. Mollie Bossier of Ocean Springs and Mr. R. E. Bossier of Biloxi; Whitney Eastman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Theriot of Pass Christian and Mr. and Mrs. John Eastman of New Orleans; and Miriam Salloum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Salloum of Gulfport. They had test scores above the 97th percentile on the California Achievement Test. The Duke University Program focuses on exceptionally bright children in 16 states of the southeast, southwest and midwest United States.

The objectives of the program are to identify very bright children at an early age, to assist in their educational development, to follow and nurture their talent during the critical middle and high school years, to assist in their placement in colleges and universities which have programs to match the students' potential, and to develop an effective research effort to help understand the nature of gifted adolescents.

These students will take either the ACT or the SAT in January. These entrance tests are the same tests which are administered to college-bound juniors and seniors.

'National Dean's List' includes local students

A total of 15 students from this area are among the 108,600 students included in the 11th annual edition of "The National Dean's List" just published by Educational Communications, Inc., Lake Forest, Ill.

Students are selected for this honor by their college deans or registrars and must be in the upper 10 percent of their class, on their school's Dean's List, or have earned a comparable honor.

Listed students are eligible to compete for $25,000 in scholarship awards funded by the publisher and may also use a referral service for future employment opportunities. More than 2,500 colleges and universities nationwide use the publication to recognize their academically qualified students.

Local students selected include:

BAY ST. LOUIS

Andrea M. Ambrose of University of Southern Mississippi, Renee G. Hebert of Southeastern Louisiana University, Sheri M. Smith of Pearl River

Junior College, Randy D. Weaver of Southern University at New Orleans.

PASS CHRISTIAN

Kristina K. Berry of Wheaton College, Margaret F.S. Chan of Mississippi State University, Eldridge A. Dedeaux of Mississippi Gulf Coast Junior College, William J. Floyd of Memphis State University, Xuan-Hong T. Ho of Mississippi State University, Donyele H. Lacoste of Mis-issippi State University, Neil M.B. Rowe of University of Southern Mississippi, Gregory P. Taconi of Mississippi Gulf Coast Junior College, Jennifer M. Yentzen of University of Southern Mississippi.

Parent-teen communication taught

A program on parent-teen communication skills will be taught for the sixth through eighth grade home economics students at Bay St. Louis Junior High on Dec. 18. A letter on the subject will be sent home for parents to read. If you would like a copy, call Hancock County Extension Home Economist Darlene Underwood at 467-2456.

"Good communication is absolutely necessary to a strong and vital family life. We are not born with good communication skills but they can be developed. We need to learn to communicate expectations for the relationship, to express love and affection, and feeling of respect and admiration for spouse and children."

Local students listed among 'Who's Who'

Several students from this area have been included in the 22nd annual edition of "Who's Who Among American High School Students," 1987-88.

"Who's Who," published by Educational Communications Inc., Lake Forest, Ill., is the largest high school recognition publication in the country. Students are nominated by high school principals and guidance counselors, national youth groups, churches or by the publishing company based upon students' performance in scholarship award contests or extracurricular activities.

Final selection is determined on the basis of criteria which include high achievement in academics and leadership in school activities, athletics or community service. Traditionally, 99 percent of "Who's Who" students have a grade point average of "B" or better and 97 percent are college bound.

The 22nd edition of "Who's Who," published in 12 regional volumes, features 573,000 students, or 5 percent of the nation's 12,000,000 high school students. They represent 18,000 of the 22,000 public, private and parochial high schools, colleges, universities, and public libraries throughout the country.

Local students selected for this year's volumes are:

MORE SCHOLARSHIP MONEY—American Legion Post 77 of Waveland recently provided more scholarship money for Hancock County students. Since the fall of 1981, the American Legion Post 77 has contributed more than $80,000 to the scholarship program at PRC. Hancock County students in an academic, vocational or technical area are the recipients. Receiving the donation from Post 77 are Robert Baughman (far left), chairman of the PRC Development Foundation and PRC President Ted J. Alexander (center). Lawrence Freeman, first vice commander and scholarship chairman, presents the check, along with Danny Carter, Post 77 commander and Robert McClure, service officer and assistant scholarship chairman. PCHS nominated for Secondary School Recognition Program

Seven Mississippi schools have been nominated to represent the state in the U.S. Department of Education's Secondary School Recognition Program. The schools are Booneville High School, Carver Middle School in Meridian, Gulfport High School, Hattiesburg High School, Pass Christian High School, Siwell Junior High School in Jackson, and Vicksburg High School. Nomination materials will be sent to Washington, D.C. where they will be evaluated by a review panel. This panel determines which schools participate in the next phase—an on-site visit. Schools chosen for the next stage will be visited after Feb. 6.

Following the site visits, a second review panel chooses which schools are to be recognized by the U.S. Department of Education as exemplary. The names of these schools will be released in early June.

The Secondary School Recognition Program recognizes junior, middle and senior high schools. It is designed to identify and call attention to a national group of schools that are unusually successful in meeting the educational needs of all their students. In alternate years, a similar program honors elementary schools.

Schools are judged on 14 attributes and seven indicators of success. Included among these are clear educational goals, order, discipline, freedom from drugs, regular monitoring of student progress, positive school climate, administrative leadership, dropout rates, student performance, daily teacher and student attendance rates, awards for outstanding school programs and teaching, and more.

LOCAL BRIEF

REALTORS MARKETING

The Hancock County Realtors marketing session will be held Thursday, December 8, 8 a.m., at the Wheel Inn on Hwy 90 in Bay St. Louis. The meetings are held monthly and are free of charge and open to all local realtors, realtor-associates, and real estate agents who are encouraged to attend to share listing information and discuss issues and problems of the market.

For further information, call Rachael Thiac of John Phillips & Associates, 467-0600, or Camille Tate of Coldwell Banker, 467-4111.

IRS seeks Bay, Pass residents owed refunds

The IRS is trying to give $221,986 back to Mississippians who paid too much in federal income taxes. The post office has sent the 583 checks back to the IRS marked "undeliverable." The average amount of checks now waiting at the IRS for their owners is $381.

"The refunds range from a dollar to $6,607," said Tully Miller, Jackson District director of the IRS. "If I had over $350 coming back to me from Uncle Sam, and especially if I was waiting for $4,000 or $6,000, I'd surely let the IRS know my correct mailing address."

The Department of the Treasury issues federal tax refund checks to Mississippians as soon as tax returns are processed. They are mailed to the address the taxpayer puts on the return, usually in 4-6 weeks after initial receipt at the service center. Each year, according to Miller, some checks are undeliverable for many reasons and are returned to the IRS.

"Often the address is incorrect, sometimes the taxpayer has moved without notifying the post office of a forwarding address, or maybe the forwarding order a taxpayer left at the post office has expired," Miller explained. The taxpayer may have changed last names, or perhaps the handwriting on the tax return was illegible. "The best way to avoid misdirected refund checks is to use the peel-off label found in the tax package making any necessary changes right on the label," said Miller.

Taxpayers who did not receive their refund checks should call the IRS on the toll-free telephone line at 1-800-424-1040 to make arrangements for the checks to be mailed to them at their correct address.

Miller said the checks must be reissued and mailed to the owners of the refunds only after the IRS has been contacted by telephone. He stressed that no checks would be available for personal pickup.

Before addiction pulls you under, call the Chemical Dependency Treatment Center.

Drinkers, drug users, and their families. All of them struggle against chemical dependency. All meet its frustration head to head.

For each of them, chemical dependency is a fatal disease. And it must be treated like one.

That's why we've opened the Chemical Dependency Treatment Center at Slidell Memorial Hospital.

In this comprehensively designed recovery and rehabilitation center, experienced and certified physicians, counselors, and nurses provide well-rounded treatment, including education and counseling, to individuals and families. Formal treatment is followed by a support program that lasts at least one year.

the first step is cleansing

Treatment begins with our Detoxification: Education Assessment & Referral (DEAR). Here, patients enter a process of cleansing, education, and assessment, through which our physicians and treatment team determine the best form of help: Inpatient Rehabilitation, Outpatient Treatment, or another appropriate strategy.

the focus is a chemical-free life

Inpatient Rehabilitation is a 24- to 30-day, highly focused intensive treatment program in which patients learn the steps to conducting chemical-free lives. Board Certified Substance Abuse Counselors and Registered Nurses work directly with patients in individual counseling, group therapy, discharge planning, treatment planning, and education.

relapse prevention follows initial treatment

An important part of treatment is Aftercare. Because chemical dependents sometimes relapse, group and individual education, therapy, and support sessions are conducted weekly for 12 months by experienced Substance Abuse Counselors.

Aftercare involves patients' families, who participate in a recovery program of their own.

strengthening the support system

Family Treatment is focused, in the first week, on educational groups that provide families a forum for asking questions and hearing from others with similar experiences. A specialized treatment program designed especially for them follows. Families receive information about addiction, and the support they need during the patient's recovery.

In the third week, families begin a week of intensive treatment which involves the patient. During this phase, families sort out important issues, assess their situation, and face the effects of this serious problem.

outpatient help for patients and families

Patients directed by our physicians and treatment team to Outpatient Treatment undergo education and therapy sessions on weekday evenings for 7 weeks. Board Certified Substance Abuse Counselors lead these meetings, which may involve the patient's family. Outpatients attend Aftercare for one year.

depend on us, not on drugs and alcohol

The Chemical Dependency Treatment Center is a comprehensive recovery and rehabilitation center that provides a full range of treatment services for the chemically-dependent and their families.

The pull of chemical dependency is relentless. But now there's a team you can depend on to help you stay afloat. Ours.

Coast branch USM offers masters in public relations

The University of Southern Mississippi/Gulf Coast now offers courses leading to a master's degree in public relations.

Eighteen of the 30 required academic hours for the master of science in public relations now will be taught on USM's coastal campuses. The remaining 12 hours currently are offered on the Hattiesburg campus, but a spokesperson said the whole degree program eventually may be available on the coast.

"Students can get just over half the courses (on the coast) now," said Carla Sondermeyer, USM/Gulf Coast recruitment coordinator. "If we have a market demand, we're going to get those Ph.D. professors here to do the rest of (the degree program)."

Master's level public relations courses now available on the coast include basic public relations, publicity methods, business and professional publications, introductory educational statistics and an internship in public relations, which students could accomplish at their workplace whenever the situation is relevant to public relations.

"It (the program) is catered to the working adult student,"

Sondermeyer said, adding that classes are taught from 6:15-10 p.m. "This (curriculum) would be relevant for anyone in communications, advertising, public relations, sales or publicity and marketing."

"I think this is going to be a really interesting program because it will involve a lot of (working adults) who will bring a lot of experience into it."

Registration for USM/Gulf Coast's spring term is set for Feb. 15-16, with classes starting Feb. 19. For more information about the public relations master's degree program, call Sondermeyer of Shelia White at (601) 865-4500.

Collier, Piazza attend drug prevention training

Seventy-two parents from 24 south Mississippi counties are being trained at the University of Southern Mississippi to form drug prevention networks in their communities.

Members of the South Mississippi Parent Network for Drug Prevention have been meeting since September at USM to participate in lectures and discussions about drug prevention. The network training is under the direction of Tammy Wise, office manager of the Drug Prevention Program at USM. The one-year program is funded by a $42,644 grant from the Federal Domestic Volunteer Agency.

The initial session Sept. 30 focused on concepts and strategies for successful parenting, which is considered the best deterrent of drug abuse among youth, according to Wise.

During the second training session Oct. 25, the parents learned the drug curriculum that is used in all Mississippi school districts. This curriculum includes information on the effects of drugs as well as how to enhance students' self-esteem and promote improved coping and decision-making skills.

Also during the second training session, parents were informed of the physiological effects that abused substances have on the body. They explored the interactions of the abused drugs with prescribed medications.

During the third meeting

Nov. 15, Dr. John Alcorn, chairman of the Counseling Psychology Department at USM, and Dr. Francis Zippel, a substance abuse specialist and facilitator of the drug prevention program at USM, discussed alcohol abuse with the parents. Also, representatives from four local mental health centers compared inpatient and outpatient treatment for addicted patients.

Representing Hancock County in these meetings were Deborah Collier and Susan Piazza.

Schwegmann It's Worth The Trip!

Schwegmann Slidell is worth the short 20-minute trip from Picayune and points north or from the Bay St. Louis-Waveland-Pass Christian area. It's a true shopping experience with more than three times the variety of items than most stores, and at low Schwegmann prices. Whether you're shopping for a big family or small one, your weekly trip to Schwegmann more than pays for itself in money saved.

Schwegmann offers fresh, U.S.D.A. Choice meats that are guaranteed to please, plus a full selection of fresh seafood, produce and even imported cheeses. Your one trip to Schwegmann can also handle your other shopping needs, including party supplies, hardware items, housewares, sporting goods, automotive needs and more. Plenty of parking, buses welcome.

Schwegmann, We've Got More In Store For You!
